St Agnes’ Parish Secondary Schools

“A complex of schools providing a first class Catholic education in a caring, disciplined environment”

Mission

St Joseph’s Regional College, St Paul’s High School, MacKillop Senior College and Newman Senior Technical College support the mission and vision of St Agnes’ Parish by:

- Promoting an attitude of excellence among students and staff;
- Providing students with a Catholic education in a caring, supportive and disciplined environment;
- Maintaining the self esteem of all students by applying Christian values of love, kindness, and understanding in all we do;
- Working with students and colleagues to maintain a professional and cohesive team, accept responsibility for our personal and professional development and respect one another’s dignity and self work at all times.

History

1969  The first Year 7-10 school, St Joseph’s Hastings/Regional was opened in Warlters Street, run by the Sisters of St Joseph.

1979  St Joseph’s Vocational College was started – offering an alternative Year 11 and 12 curriculum for students wishing to go from school to employment. It moved to its Hay Street site in 1980.

1988  MacKillop Senior College opened offering a traditional HSC curriculum for students.

1993  The Marian Hospitality Centre opened and the VOCOL Skills Centre Workshops upgraded in Acacia Avenue.

1994  The second Year 7-10 school – St Paul’s High School was opened in Ocean Drive.

1995  St Paul’s High School completed

2003  MacKillop Senior College MPC and extensions opened.

2006  St Joseph’s Vocational College becomes the Australian Technical College

2007  The Australian Technical College is re-built in Boundary Street

2009  The Australian Technical College becomes Newman Senior Technical College

2009  Stage 1 is added to St Joseph’s Regional College

2009  Relocation of St Joseph’s Regional College to College St, completing Stage 1-3

2009  Stage 4 is added to St Joseph’s Regional College

2010  Stage 5 is added to St Joseph’s Regional College